

According to studies conducted by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) on tire-related crashes, the leading cause of tire failure is under-inflation. Tires should be inspected by a tire professional each month or before long trips. Tire related crashes can be fatal.

